Priority for allocating places in child care services

The Priority of Access Guidelines are primarily referred to when a service has a large waiting list and a number of parents competing for a limited number of vacant places.

All parents should be made aware of the guidelines at the time of enrolling their child or children in a child care service.

Definitions

- Family (for a child) – means the child, the individual in whose care the child is, that individual's partner (if any), and any other individual with whom the child lives.
- Parents – means the individual in whose care the child is and that individual's partner.
- Single parent – means an individual in whose care a child is, and who has no partner.

Priorities

First Priority	A child at risk of serious abuse or neglect.
Second Priority	A child of a single parent who satisfies, or of parents who both satisfy the work/training/study test under Section 14 of the Family Assistance Act.
Third Priority	Any other child.

Priorities within each category of priority

Within each priority mentioned above, the following children are to be given priority:

- children in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families;
- children in families which include a person with a disability;
- children in families which include an individual whose taxable income percentage under Clause 7 of Schedule 2 to the Family Assistance Act is 100%;
- children in families with a non-English speaking background;
- children in socially isolated families; and
- children of single parents.

Where a child care service is funded by an employer in order to provide child care solely or primarily for the children of the employer's employees, the service may give priority to those children
